

Mag. Jochen Buchmaier

- CEO of “Humus+ Modell Ecoregion Kaindorf”. A project of 17 years of experience in carbon farming, regenerative agriculture and pioneer in issuing humus certificates. These certificates remunerate farmers for their ecological service of sequestering CO2 in their soils, improving fertility, water storage capacity and resilience.

- Expertise in regenerative agriculture (agroforestry, water-management/keyline system) and permaculture.

- 11 years of experience in permaculture (permanent-agriculture) designing and accompanying several projects in Spain and Austria.

- In his presentation he outlines the importance of an immediate action to use agriculture as a means of climate change mitigation and sequester carbon in our soils and trees, as well as the necessity to adapt climate change by implanting an effective water and climate management.
